After opening remarks by Messrs. Johnson and Gresham, Mr. McDonald stressed we were only in a planning stage and had not received approval for any building. The next item on the agenda was a timetable presentation by Mr. Walter Arensberg of Skidmore, Owings & Merrill (SOM), after which the meeting was opened for items of mutual concern. The topics discussed primarily centered about the number of people who would be moving to the compound, associated transportation problems, and the environmental impact. The most significant item that was raised was a statement from the Virginia Department of Highways and Transportation that there were no funds available for highway improvement and that the Agency would have to pay for any improvements to the road network if so required. Dr. Sidney Steele of the Zoning Evaluation Office of Fairfax County then alluded to the fact that as of a year ago county rules had changed and that a public hearing on this project is no longer required but was nevertheless very pleased that the Agency was coming out so early to the County. The County also urged that the Agency make contact with Nancy Falck, the District Supervisor.

All in all, it was an excellent meeting, and it opened the many doors that SOM and the Agency will need to pursue the approval from NCPC and the County.
